RAINS IN LONDON MAR CORONATION

Some of Finest Decorative Effects for Celebration Probably Ruined.

THRONGS ON MUDDY STREETS

Spectacular Aspect Is Considerably Damaged—Buckingham Palace Again Center of Interest—Preliminary Events.

London, June 19.—Rain began falling steadily early this afternoon and the flags along the streets tonight hung limp, their gaudy colors blurred while paint ran down the columns of the triumphal arches. Some of the finest decorative effects arranged for the coronation celebration stand a fair chance of being ruined. The spectacular aspect of London is considerably damaged, but the town has festive appearance regardless of the unkindness of the weather.

Many illuminations blazed tonight all the way from the west end clubs to the heart of the financial district, where the stock exchange and the Bank of England were bright with electric lights. Throngs of the people splashed cheerfully through the muddy streets enjoying the patriotic show.

Buckingham Palace again today was the center of popular interest. Central London will see little rest day or night until the crowning is over. Well into the small hours of the morning there was a constant parade of belated sight-seers watching curiously the thousands of workmen engaged in completing the decorations of which much still remains to oe done and must be done at night time owing to the difficulty in obtaining sufficient men.

The King and Queen had a busy day. In addition to receiving a large number of visiting royalties at the palace, they attended rehearsal ceremony at the Abbey, and this evening dined the foreign representatives at Buckingham Palace. The Queen received deputations from various parts of the empire, who presented gifts and addresses.

All the visiting princes and princesses and lesser members of the royal families, with the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and John Hays Hammond, the personal representative of the President of the United States, were present.

The fleet at Spithead is now practically in full force for the review. Most of the foreign vessels arrived today and took up their stations.

Each of the foreign vessels on entering the harbor fired a salute of 21 guns in honor of the nation and another of 17 guns in honor of the commander-in-chief.

After the royal dinner at the palace many of the guests drove to Stafford which overlooks the Mall, where the Duchess of Switzerland gave a ball. This was the most magnificent private social affair London has seen in years.

Besides the members of the British royal family, with the exception of the King and Queen, most of the royal visitors from abroad with their suites, the diplomatic corps, including the members of the regular and special American embassies, the colonial representatives, many of the leading statesmen and nearly every one prominent in society were present. The display of uniforms and costly dress and jewels was regal.

The British Empire League gave a large ball tonight at the Hotel Cecil in honor of the officers of the overseas forces. Several hundred colonials and English officers were present. Earlier in the day members of the Colonial Parliament in London were tendered a luncheon at the Westminster Hall by the members of the House of Commons. Lord Rosebery was the principal speaker. James Keier Hardie, M. P., for Merthyr, Tydfil socialist and independent labor members, struck the only discordant note thus far heard in the Coronation season.

"The workers ought to have sufficient self respect to spit at the Coronation procession and all its hollow mockeries," he said speaking at a miners' demonstration at Barnsley. "What will be seen in the Coronation procession is not humanity, religion or industry, but the forces that oppose the common people. The working men should see that Kings, Czars, Emperors and all the unholy brood are put in their proper places."

The coming Coronation of King George is signalized by a free handed distribution of honors, among the most interesting being that of a baroneacy upon Dr. William Osler, regius professor of medicine at Oford and formerly professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University, at Baltimore. Lord Rosebery, Lord Cyrzon, of Kedleston, and Lord Brasey are made earls. Altogether 20 new baronets and 40 knights are created who include men conspicuous in commerce and science. Several hundred decorations also have been bestowed.

PACKERS MUST FACE MUSIC

Meat Barons Denied Motion for Rehearing of Motion to Quash Indictments—Cite Supreme Court Rulings.

Chicago, June 19.—J. Ogden Armour, Louis F. Swift and eight other Chicago packers must stand trial, probably in October, as the result of a decision today of Judge George A. Carpenter, in the United States District Court, who denied a motion of the packers for a re-hearing of their motion to quash indictments charging violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

No written opinion had been prepared by Judge Carpenter and he gave no reason for his finding.

The latest motion of the packers for a re-hearing of their motion to quash the indictments was based on recent decisions of the United States Supreme Court in the Standard Oil and American Tobacco Company cases in which the word "unreasonable" had been held within the meaning of the statute.

Counsel for the packers held that there had been no "reasonable" restraint of the packing industry and that a new hearing should be granted. They also pleaded that the provisions of the Sherman act were too indefinite to warrant the return of indictments or prosecution of alleged violation of its inhibitions.

The next move, it is said, will be for the packers to enter a plea to the charge in the indictments.

The packers under indictment and who were moved nearer to trial by the decision today, are: J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co.; Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co.; Edward F. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co.; Charles H. Swift, director of Swift & Co.; Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing Company; Arthur Meeker, general manager Armour & Co.; Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co.; Francis A. Fowler, director of Swift & Co.; Thomas J. Connors, superintendent of Armour & Co., and Louis H. Heyman, manager of Morris & Co.

HUMAN FRAGMENTS FOUND.

Work of Exploring Hull of Maine is Still in Progress.

Havana, June 19.—With the first discovery this morning of some human fragments, the work of exploring the hull of the Maine for the primary purpose of recovering and giving honorable sepulchre to the bodies of her crew was at last begun, after many weary months of preliminary work.

While workmen were clearing the spar deck between the after engine room superstructure in the immediate vicinity of the after port-side turret, they found bones of a right foot enclosed in the ragged remnant of a shoe, and nearby the bones of a forearm, the hand being missing. Soon after this they came upon the bones of another forearm. All were blackened, possibly from fire, and deeply encrusted with a coral growth.

No hope of identification was offered except that the shoe suggested that the wearer probably was either an officer, a mess attendant or a member of the marine guard, the blue jackets in tropical climate habitually going barefoot.

Further exploration in that portion of the ship did not reveal anything which might assist in the identification. The remains were reverently placed in a receptacle on board the United States collier Leonidas.

A search of the spar deck and officers' quarters superstructure resulted in the discovery of a paper-covered novel, in which the owner's name on the title page was illegible, a pair of binoculars, much corroded, two rain coats, a barrel of bottled mineral water and a quantity of porcelain belonging to the captain's and the ward room messes. It was noticeable that the rubber articles withstood well the action of the water. All metal objects were reduced to unidentifiable masses of black oxide.

The water level had lowered at night fall to 14 feet, leaving visible all the spar deck from the stern to the forepart of the engine room superstructure on the port side. The latter deck is badly bulged and apparently the side of the ship under this, including the armor belt, was blown outward, which probably resulted in the explosion of the Maine's after magazine.

This evening the after part of the vessel, including the officers' quarters, had been for the most part cleared of mud and debris. The dead lights of the main deck on the after port side are visible, but a view of the inner is obscured by masses of mud. By morning the water level will be reduced to fifteen feet, when pumping will be suspended. The exposed portion will then be freed from silt and marine growth, and further exploration of the inner portion will be possible.

Lexington, Va., June 19.—Large crowds were present at the exhibition drills which were a feature today of the commencement exercises at Virgina Military Institute. There was a parade in honor of the board of visitors. Tomorrow is alumni day. Many old cadets are present.

TAFT TOLD PLANS FOR HIS FUTURE

President Refers to "Less Active Life" in Speech to Cincinnati Club.

RETURNS TO HIS PROFESSION

Addressed the "Homefolks" Who Came to Washington to Silver Wedding Celebration—Welcomed and Unwelcomed.

Washington, June 19.—President Taft, in a happy vein delivered an address to the Commercial Club of Cincinnati today at which he lightly referred to the possibility of "going back to a less active life" away from the Presidency as having both welcome and unwelcome phases; that in the absence of any provision for ex-Presidents he would open a law office in his old home city, and that he is determined that his son Robert shall work out his life amid those surroundings.

Mr. Taft was speaking at the Chevy Chase Club here in the Washington suburbs, at a luncheon tendered him there by the Cincinnati Commercial Club and was formally accepting for Mrs. Taft and himself a silver rose bowl presented by the Cincinnatians. The President said in part:

"As I look about this table, and exercise such memory as has been left me after my experience in Washington almost every face brings up some incident in my life at Cincinnati that I like to cherish and as the time grows nearer when I shall go back to Cincinnati to make it my permanent home, as a retiring place for one ex-President, the pleasure of retrospection as to Cincinnati friendships grows greater and greater.

"Mrs. Taft and I esteem the coming of the Commercial Club here to attend our silver wedding as the chief pleasure of the occasion. It is an indication that you men of affairs have been willing to take the time to come here, to give an expression of good will and of fellowship which the objects of it ought to value and do value most highly."

The President then in referring to the fact that it had been 12 years since he and his family had left Cincinnati said that did not seem such a long time. In this connection he told of the tremendous change that had taken place in that time in his career—that of a judgeship to the Presidency.

"The effect that it has upon one's life and character," said the President, "is something that one realizes fully, but cannot explain. Of course, there are others who have had similar experiences, but I venture to say that it is rather exceptional to include within a limit of little more than a decade, that which has happened to me—to go from the somewhat humdrum, but always delightful life of a judge, who could retire from public life in any sense without being exposed to criticism, to a place where there seemed to be nothing but criticism, was a change that only a man who has been through it can fully understand.

"The prospect of going back to a less active life has in it at this time some phases that are welcome and some that are unwelcome. The necessity for labor, which will follow my retirement, however, relieves me somewhat from anxiety on that score. There is as yet, so far as I have been informed, no provision for an ex-President, and while I do not wish to hold out any competition to the two lawyers who honor this club, I wish to say to the rest of the members of the club that I shall open an office and be ready for business, not at an old but at a very new stand."

In speaking of the time when his son Robert shall come back to Cincinnati to practice law, declared that while "it has been pressed on him and me to have him go to some place where possibly his emoluments would be larger, I am determined, and he sympathizes with me, that he shall go to the home that knew his great grandfather, and his grandfather and his father, and that there he shall work out his life under the influences that I hope will be favorable to his success—at least in restraining him within the path and the limitations of an honorable life."

The speech and presentation was made by James Albert Green, president of the Commercial Club, who said his organization came without axes to grind and without petitions to present, to assure the President of the affection of the club membeis and their loyalty, adding that the esteem in which they have always held him "mounts higher and higher day by day."

SENATOR'S HEROIC SACRIFICE

Luke Lee, of Tennessee, Saves Life of Stricken Wife by Giving A Quart of His Blood—The Transfusion Operation.

Washington, June 19.—United States Senator Luke Lea, of Tennessee, to save the life of his stricken wife, heroically sacrificed a quart of his blood at Georgetown hospital yesterday and tonight hope for Mrs. Lea's recovery, which had almost been abandoned, is practically assured, as the anxious youngest Senator of the Nation lies near the bedside of his wife recuperating his strength.

Mrs. Lea's condition, serious for some time, became alarming Sunday after an operation the day before. The strength because of lack of blood, was gone and vitality was fast ebbing away. Senator Lea, upon learning her condition, demanded that a transfusion operation be performed and prepared at once to submit to the ordeal. Attending physicians and surgeons made arrangements immediately and the operation which followed was declared to have been very successful.

Senator Lea withstood the operation well, though it left him so weakened that for hours he could not stand alone, but gratification over the revivifying effect it had upon his wife was inexpressible. Surgeons assured him that without the sacrifice which he made, Mrs. Lea could have lived but a few hours. Both are tonight in Georgetown University hospital.

It will be two or three days before Mrs. Lea is altogether out of danger. At present her symptoms are favorable, although she is still very weak. Senator Lea is confined to his bed at the hospital, his vitality being reduced by the transfusion operation. It is expected, however, that he will be able to leave his room in a few days.

When heroic effort in Mrs. Lea's behalf became imperative and the transfusion operation was determined upon, Senator Lea, athletic in stature, would not consent to anything but that a sacrifice of his own blood to renew her vanishing strength be made.

But because the prime factor in transfusion operations is that the bloods be fusible, tests were hastily ordered. Before the analysis was complete, the surgeons, Drs. H. D. Fry and George Tully Vaughn, fearing that death might be swifter than they thought, became alarmed at Mrs. Lea's condition and decided to try the operation anyway. Just as the Senator's arm had been bared and a tube inserted in an artery word came that the bloods of the husband and wife were fusible.

The other end of the tube which had been inserted in Senator Lea's arm was connected with an incision in Mrs. Lea's arm and the blood began to flow from his veins to those of his wife. The transfusion continued for about an hour and a half. The patient responded to the treatment from the first. Gradually the color was restored to the lips and cheeks of the frail sufferer. But as Mrs. Lea's color was restored the flush faded from the cheeks of her husband. His thought was not of himself and when the transfusion had continued for an hour and a half, he importuned the surgeons not to arrest the operation while there was the possibility of a doubt as to the outcome of Mrs. Lea's case. But the surgeons realizing the weakening effects of such a drain on the Senator's system, eventually staunched the flow. After the operation Senator Lea fell to the floor in a faint. He was immediately placed in bed and tonight is making splendid recovery of his strength.

Not the least favorable element in his recovery is his buoyant mental attitude in consequence of Mrs. Lea's improvement. With the assistance of a friend he was able to walk to his wife's bedside today.

New Orleans, June 19.—As a result of a recent decision of the National Baseball Commission relating to the draft rule, New Orleans is to get absolute possession of Frank Manush, the star third baseman, recently returned to New Orleans by the New York Nationals. Manager Frank, of the local team, received a telegram today to send $500 to the Nationals to close the Manush transaction.

BRILLIANT EVENT AT WHITE HOUSE

Silver Wedding Celebration Attended by at Least 5,000 Last Night.

HONOR PRESIDENT AND WIFE

Decorations Were Particularly Elaborate—Congratulatory Messages From Rules of the World—Many Features.

Washington, June 19.—The silver wedding celebration of the President and Mrs. Taft, the second that has been held in the White House, came to an end tonight with the reception on the White House lawn. Invitations had been sent to close to 12,000 persons and it was estimated that at least 5,000 people were present.

Never in the history of the Nation probably has such a function been held in Washington. The diplomatic corps; the United States Supreme Court; the Senate and the House of Representatives; the departments of the government, the men who are high in political affairs of the country, the army, the navy and every walk of life almost were represented.

The cool, clear night that made a reception in the open air possible prevented the crush that the White House for days has been afraid of and made the reception not only brilliant and unusual, but delightful in every respect. The guests would have filled the White House to overflowing, but the White House grounds are ample and there was no crush and no confusion. Possibly 15,000 people crowded about the iron fence that surrounds the grounds and looked longingly at the electric display, the splashing fountain and the gay throng within.

The cards said that the reception would begin at 9 o'clock and promptly on that hour to the strains of the wedding march the President and Mrs. Taft came slowly down the staircase of the White House, preceded by the six Presidential aides and followed by the cabinet. Out through the red room to the rear portico of the mansion down the broad steps and out on to the lawn the procession marched while hundreds of guests already in the grounds watched their progress. They took their stand beneath two trees, just about the center of the lawn, whose branches were joined by an electric sign flashing "1886-1911."

The guests entered from the east front, passed through the corridors beneath the White House and out to the lawn. Down the winding walk they passed in two lines to where the President, his face wreathed in smiles was waiting to meet them all.

Above the walks the electrician had touched the trees with magic and they blazed in red and white and blue bulbs. From the top of the treasury a monster searchlight played upon a new American flag above the summit of the mansion. Over the rear portico another flag in red, white and blue incondescent lamps, shimmered and waved. The fountain in the center of the grounds played upon by another searchlight sprinkled forth all hues of the rainbow. The Washington monument, a thousand feet to the south, brought into relief by the thousands of lights, stood out sharply against the sky, dark blue with here and there a star striving successfully against the lights of man.

The White House lawn clipped and shaved to the very quick made a carpet of soft dark green over which walked lightly the gaily clap women, the men in black or in the white of the military service. Down near the fountain the marine band in scarlet coats played with vigor and in the White House itself the Engineer band vied with them.

Every corner of the mansion had its own particular light. On the terraces that extend from the old mansion eastward and westward the beauty of the White House conservatories had been poured. The tall lamps that stand along the borders of these terraces had been shaded by deep red paper and they resembled nothing so much as cluster poppies.

The reception was just as informal as the President could make it. Those who could, waited in line for hours to shake hands, but many slipped out the lines and sought the shaded walks, the chairs waiting on the grass or wandered at will through the lower floors of the mansion.

The presents that numbered in the hundreds and whose money value ran high into the thousands attracted many, while others turned to the East room where polished floor echoed to the tread of the dancers.

Preparation had been made for 5,000 guests and refreshment tables in the State dining room came as near groaning as a perfectly good table can come. The President and the members of his family with the cabinet and the aides were served on the east terrace,but guests found their refreshments in the State dining rooms.

Mrs. Taft surprised even those familiar with the improvement in health that she has shown by remaining by the President's side in the receiving line all of the evening. She wore a gown of white satin, brocaded with silver flowers, with a court-train. Miss Helen Taft, who was near at hand, wore a gown of pink satin with a tunic of pink chiffon.

In spite of the unusual crowd the

WIDER SCOPE AT SUGAR PROBE

Two Committees Interrogated Witness Yesterday—New Facts About Sudden Wealth and the Vast Frauds.

Washington, June 19.—This was field day in the House inquiry into the American Sugar Refining Company, and other refineries, two committees devoting hours to interrogating witnesses as to the formation and operations of the big corporations. A number of new facts were brought out bearing on the sudden creation of wealth by combinations of manufacturing concerns and more was learned of the frauds practiced on the government in sugar weighing at the port of New York.

The special "sugar trust" Investigating committee had before it James H. Post, president of the National Sugar Refining Company, of New Jersey, whose testimony closed with a spirited defense of the corporation activities of the late H. O. Havemeyer, organizer of the American Company. The House Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department, questioned Oliver Spitzer, a former dock superintendent for the corporation, with a view to discovering the identity of the "men higher up" in the perpetration of the frauds.

Mr. Post was subjected to a long and gruelling examination of the National company. Representative Madison, of the committee, complained that whenever the committee had "gotten down to something," witnesses frequently "threw it off onto Havemeyer."

"His memory has been traduced by men who would not have dared to have done so had he been alive," said Mr. Post, his eyes flashing.

The defense was made after the witness had told of the issuance to Havemeyer through Post himself, of $10,000,000 of the common stock of the National Sugar Refining Company without any money consideration.

"There are some things I cannot explain," declared Mr. Post. "But I have such confidence in Mr. Havemeyer that I know he would explain everything if he were here."

Representative Madison referred to testimony given by Vice President Atkins, of the American Sugar Refining Company, and Lowell M. Palmer, former director of that company. He said Mr. Palmer had testified that Mr. Havemeyer had organized the beet sugar refineries, and while he (Palmer) was on the directorate he did not have anything to do with it.

"What idea have you of a strong, able man, as Mr. Palmer is, who will say that?" exclaimed Mr. Post, greatly excited. "He is a coward."

Mr. Larkins, counsel to the witness relieved the situation by objecting to the line of investigation as beyond the authority of the committee. Chairman Hardwick disagreed, but the examination was not pressed further.

As president of a $20,000,000 sugar company for 11 years without ever having received a penny of salary was the light in which Mr. Post appeared at the beginning of the afternoon session.

Representative Raker, of California, expressed surprise at the luck of the National Sugar Refining Company in having a president without a salary. His questions led the witness to repeat that H. O. Havemeyer, about 1902, gave him $500,000 of the common stock of the National "because I never received salary as president."

Mr. Post also said that B. H. Howell Son & Co., got a commission of one-half of one per cent. for handling the business of the National.

This amounted to about $220,000 a year. As one of three partners of B. H. Howell Son & Co., Mr. Post said he received $50,000 to $60,000 out of this $220,000.

Replying to a rapid fire of questions from Representative Sulzer, Mr. Post declared H. O. Havemeyer, although controlling the American Sugar Refining Company "through his brains and high ability," and although interested in the National Sugar Refining Company, never suppressed competition between them.

"There was never any concert in the management of the two companies," said Mr. Post. "Strange as it may seem, that is true."

"Why wasn't there?" asked Mr. Sulzer.

"You'll have to ask the directors."

"You would have sold sugar much cheaper if you had not watered your stock?" Mr. Sulzer inquired.

Mr. Post objected to the use of the word "watered," but to the question said:

"No. Because the economies practiced by the company have been more than offset by the dividend on the stock."

"Mr. Post, have you made any effort to get back these $10,000,000 of stock?" inquired Representative Sulzer, referring again to the stock Havemeyer obtained by the organization of the National Sugar Refining Company of which Mr. Post is president.

"There is no reason why I ought," rejoined Mr. Post.

Mr. Parker asked the witness if he meant to say that these corporations were organized in behalf of the people of the country.

"I think they shared in the profits," explained Mr. Post.

Horace Havemeyer, son of H. O. Havemeyer, will appear before the committee tomorrow.

REVOLT IN SENATE OVER RECIPROCITY

Claim Many Republicans Would Join Democrats to Urge Lower Duties.

STRONGLY OPPOSE MEASURE

Debate Now Waxing Warm and Republican Opposition Comes Out Plain—Senator Dixon Leader Yesterday.

Washington, June 19.—Republican opposition to the Canadian reciprocity bill in the Senate reached the stage of open revolt today. Led by Senator Dixon, of Montana, who again failed in his demand for an explanation or a speech in favor of the bill from some of the Republican leaders, who champion the measure, the Republican opponents declared that if the bill passed, many Republicans would join the Democrats in an attempt to lower the duties on all manufactured products.

"When the cornerstone is pulled out of the system of protective tariff," said Senator Dixon; "when the farmers' products are thrown into a free market while his purchases continue to be protected, there are many good protectionists in the Republican ranks here who will vote to have the duties pulled down on iron and steel, chemicals, cotton and many other things."

Other Northwestern Republicans signified their approval of the Montana Senator's words that the passage of the reciprocity bill, which it is admitted, will have a majority of the votes in the Senate, will be attacked with a fight that threatens to throw open the whole tariff subject.

"We want to make one killing," declared Senator Crawford, of South Dakota. We find the Senators from Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, stated that have always reaped the greatest harvest of protection advocating this measure that proposes to put on the free list every single article raised in the Northwest. I want to deal with this matter in its entirety.

"If Pennsylvania, Mississippi and Massachusetts, have joined hands in a new political propaganda, it is time for the rest of the country to strike out on a new track."

"If you can get enough Senators on that side with you," returned Senator Bailey, of Texas, "we will take one of these bills now coming over from the House and make a whole new tariff law out of it."

Senator Bailey declared there would be no adjournment until the Senate has acted upon the free list bill and the woolen bill.

Reciprocity came before the Senate today with the Root amendment effecting the importation of pulp wood and paper from Canada as the matter for immediate consideration. This amendment was again laid aside because of Senator Root's absence.

Later he came into the chamber, but said he would not be ready to discuss the amendment until Wednesday.

Opponents of the bill including Messrs. Bailey, Dixon, Cummins and Smith, of Michigan, then demanded an explanation or speech from some one in favor of the measure.

Senator Root made a brief explanation of the reason for offering his amendment which requires Canadian provinces to remove export restrictions before pulp wood and paper are admitted free.

Reference to President Taft's speeches in favor of reciprocity and his criticism of the Root amendment were met by Senator Root with the statement that he would not discuss newspaper quotations of the President.

Senator Bailey declared he proposed to discuss them; that if the President could criticise legislation and attempt to influence the Senate in open speeches, the Senate should feel free to discuss and criticise the President.

Senator Williams, of Mississippi, insisted that President Taft is not open to criticism for his efforts to secure the passage of the Canadian reciprocity bill.

In a direct attack upon the Root amendment Senator Williams contended that if it were adopted no Canadian paper or pulp would come into the United States free of duty until all Canadian provinces had removed their export restrictions, and that the influence of the "paper trust" would result in preventing its ever coming in free.

Those who would continue the present grip of the International Paper Company will vote for the amendment, he said, with much intensity "while those who wish to remove that strangling hold will vote against it."

Buffalo, N. Y., June 19.—One man was killed and ten were injured in a panic on a street car near Tonawanda tonight. The injured included A. L. Reeves, auditor of the Missouri State Insurance Department, and Jno. E. Swangler, former Secretary of the State of Missouri.

New York, June 19.—Heavy hitting by the Bostons, mixed with an error, a base on balls and a neatly turned squeeze play and the inability of the Yankees to hit when hits would have meant runs, led to the defeat of the locals today by a score of 6 to 3.

At Atlanta, Birmingham and Savannah the rain was accompanied by heavy electrical displays. No property damage was reported.

INTERESTING RAILROAD GOSSIP.

Raleigh Anticipating Some Possibilities of the Near Future.

(Raleigh News and Observer, June 17)

The construction of the Montgomery Lumber Company's railroad from Spring Hope to Bunn, in Franklin county, now within 25 miles of this city, has created the general impression that it is to be used as a part of the Atlantic Coast Line system, to be extended from Rocky Mount through Nashville via Spring Hope and Bunn to Raleigh. The road this lumber company has constructed is not a temporary, cheap and slazy one, like roads so many lumber companies have built, but it is constructed just exactly as if the builders were going to make it a permanent and important road. While the railroad officials will say nothing for publication, the men closest to them believe it is only a question of time when this road will be constructed to Raleigh. It will be a great thing for the railroad and also a great thing for Raleigh, besides developing a fine section of the country between Bunn and the capital of the State.

The presence in Raleigh on Wednesday of some of the officials of the Norfolk & Western Railroad, who spent part of the day here and went on their special car with Mr. John A. Mills over the Raleigh & Southport Railroad to Fayetteville, revived the current talk that it is the purpose of the Norfolk & Western Railroad to come into Raleigh. The fact that the Norfolk & Western Railroad and the Atlantic Coast Line are co-operating to build a road from Wadesboro to Winston-Salem with the big Atlantic Coast Line system, which goes to the fine harbors of Wilmington and Charleston and on to Florida, and at Winston-Salem connect with the great Norfolk & Western system, which runs directly to the coal fields and to Cincinnati.

Now that the Atlantic Coast Line is thinking about coming into Raleigh from Dunn, why would not the Norfolk & Western be interested in being able to bring coal from the coal fields direct to Raleigh and to Fayetteville and to all intermediate points; and for the Atlantic Coast Line to come into Raleigh from Bunn, so that it would haul coal from the Norfolk & Western and its own line direct from the coal fields in the nearest way to Bunn and Spring Hope and Nashville and Rocky Mount and Wilson and to all points the Atlantic Coast Line reaches in northeastern North Carolina, and take such coal at Fayetteville and carry it direct to Wilmington and to Goldsboro and to all other points that it reaches south of Wilson?

The Norfolk & Western Railroad is already within 28 miles of Raleigh. The road built by Mr. Barr and others from Durham to Bonsal would need only a short link to connect that road and the Norfolk & Western with Mr. Mills' road, which he is building from Lillington to Sanford. It would pay the Norfolk & Western handsomely to come into Raleigh, particularly if it could make arrangements with Mr. Mills by which it could get into Fayetteville, and if the Atlantic Coast Line would build from Bunn to Raleigh, so as to get into all that eastern country. The gaps to be built are so short and the country through which the road would be built so level, comparatively, that the cost would be very small for such a great system, and the knowing ones believe that in the coming year we shall witness the completion of both of these roads into Raleigh.

DEMOCRATS WERE UNWILLING.

Adojourn Rather Than Consider Legislation Not Intended For Session.

Washington, June 19.—The Democrats of the House today decided to adjourn rather than take up legislation outside of that which the party had decided in caucus should be considered at this session. An effort was made when the House met to brin up a pension bill introduced by Representative Anderson, of Ohio, which would add $45,000,000 a year to the present pension roll. The bill had the right-of-way today under the discharge of committee rule. The Democrats were unwilling to consider the measure and forced adjournment by a strict party vote.

HAMLET AFFAIRS.

New Pipe Line—Blind Tiger Arrests—Improvements.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Hamlet, June 19.—W. R. Bonsal & Co., have just finished a pipe line from the low pressure tank at the Hamlet ice plant to the standpipe on the S. A. L. yards where the engines are filled with water. A large auxiliary pump has been installed at the pumping station to draw water direct from Mark's Creek in the Shortridge pond. This water is not filtered and is used by the railroad and for cooling purposes at the ice plant. This water does not go into the ice. The water used in making ice comes from wells on the premises of the ice plant and is all boiled before using.

The ice plant and the railroad use more water than Hamlet and Rockingham combined. The new arrangement means that the supply of good drinking water in the standpipes of the two towns will never be in danger of failing until the population is four times what it is now.

Officers C. B. Wright and D. B. Brown with a posse of citizens searched the residences of Tom Cooper and one Finer, who live in the extreme southern part of town. An assorted supply of wet oods was found in a cellar under Cooper's house. About 25 empty kegs bore testimony to more having existed in the past. Considerably more than a quart was found upon the premises of Finger. Both men were bound over to the Superior Court by Mayor W. E. Davis. Finger was held also on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, a pistol being taken off of him by Chief Wright.

The new building for the Hamlet Insurance & Realty Co., on main street, is nearing completion. The front is to be of pressed brick and plate glass. The basement is to be occupied by the Terry barber shop and pool room. Modern conveniences are being installed and when completed it will be admirably suited for its purposes.

AMBULANCE CORPS.

One for Raleigh—Corporation Commissioner Brown Ill.—Failure.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 19.—Adjutant General Leinster, of the National Guard, announces the arrangements for the formation of a field ambulance corps for Raleigh in connection with the Third regiment. He commissions Dr. W. C. Horton and Dr. Ralph S. Stevens, first and second lieutenants, and 43 men are to be enlisted. As soon as this is done there will come a regular army man to Raleigh to give a series of drills. The ambulances and a full supply of other equipment for the proposed corps have already been shipped fro mthe War Department at Washington.

The friends of Corporation Commissioner Henry Clay Brown are very anxious about him. He has been too unwell for official duties for more than a month, and a trip was made two weeks ago to Baltimore, for an examination by a specialist. Inquirers at the Brown home are given very meagre information as to his condition. It is generally reported here that he is affected in a way that very much resembles a puncture of the intestines that follows typhoid fever in many instances. However, it has been two years since he had typhoid fever.

The Ellington Lumber and Supply Company, of Raleigh, went into voluntary bankruptcy today, giving their liabilities at $22,891 and assets at $13,242, distributed among 50 or more creditors, many of whom are in Raleigh. The principal stockholders are E. E. Ellington, W. E. Ellington and D. D. Ellington. The Ellingtons have been in the lumber business here for many years, and about six months ago moved into a splendidly equipped plant, just opposite the State's prison on the Southern and Seaboard tracks.

BOND ISSUE IRREGULARITIES.

Discovered in Connection With Panama Canal Bids.

Washington, June 19.—So many irregularities were discovered today in the bids for the $50,000,000 issue of 3 per cent. Panama bonds that the average price of the issue will be lower than was first estimated, and many bidders at first thought unsuccessful will receive some of the new securities.

Help for All

Andrew Carnegie once suggested as an epitaph for his own tombstone what he said was the secret of his success:

"Here lies a man who surrounded himself with men abler than himself."

Many able people are working for you, scientists, inventors, manufacturers, all trying to make something you want. Do you use their brains and their efforts—"surround yourself with them"—or do you plod along by yourself, years behind the times?

Take your own home. Have you your share of modern improvements there—money-saving, labor-saving, health-promoting? One of the most important of these is a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

A New Perfection stove never overheats a kitchen. It saves your strength. It saves fuel and time. With the New Perfection oven with the glass doors you can go on with your ironing or any other work, and still be sure at a glance the joint is roasting properly.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

CONVICTS IN A DEATH TRAP

Four Killed on Transcontinental Construction in Mountains—Several Charters Issued—Other News of Interest.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 19.—The State's prison authorities here cannot understand how it could have been possible for the big log house at the Trans-Continental convict camp in Haywood county to collapse as it did Sunday, killing four convicts and injuring six others, three so seriously that they are being sent back to the hospital of the Central prison here for treatment.

The house was built especially as a stockade for the State convicts and was 80x30 feet. The convicts were only sent to the Trans-Continental last Monday. The news of the disaster came from J. E. Hoskins in charge of the camp, who wired from Waterville Sunday afternoon. Mr. Fennell, chief clerk at the prison, left here at once to look into the matter and see that everything possible was done for the convicts and precautions taken to avert further accidents. This morning R. L. Council, general counsel for the Trans-Continental, wired that the camp was in good order again, that medical aid had been procured for the injured and the three most seriously hurt were being sent back to Raleigh. As yet it is not known whether the log stockade just collapsed or whether it went down in the midst of a storm in the mountains.

President M. L. Shipman, of the North Carolina Press Association, is urging upon all editors in the territory involved to make it a point to take the special Press Association Pullman that starts with the early train at Goldsboro, via Raleigh, Greensboro and Salisbury, to Hickory, where the car is switched to the C. & N. W. Railroad for Lenoir where the association will hold its sessions next week. The indications are that there will be an exceptionally large attendance from every part of the State.

The Raleigh authorities have procured from Governor Kitchin a requisition on the governor of Maryland, for Madame Hunter, the fortune teller who worked a number of people here for considerable sums of money under promise that she would exercise her mystic powers in their behalf for the solution of family complications and the averting of personal calamities that she represented to them were impending in one form and another. The requisition has been sent to Maryland with a view to ascertaining whether it will be honored before the expense of sending an officer to Baltimore for the fugitive is incurred. In the meantime the information has been received here that the woman has given $2,500 bond for her appearance Friday when the matter of whether the Maryland authorities will allow her extradition is to be decided.

Madame Hunter made her biggest known haul here through an imposition on the credulity of Mrs. Annie O. Eastman, well known dressmaker, for whom she undertook to exercise her magic in bringing back a near relative concerning whom she was greatly disturbed. The money was obtained at different times in installments as the charm was being worked.

She obtained $200 from a negro woman, Viola Watson, whom she was to save from a terrible affliction of sores that she represented to the credulous woman that she was about to be plagued with through the conjuration of an enemy. A sealed box was given her as a talisman to open which would mean death to her. This was carried to Chief of Police Stell by the woman after she became convinced that she had been imposed upon, and the chief opened it to find inside a blackish powder, harmless and worthless.

Charters were issued today for three new corporations: The Franklin Club, (Inc.), Louisburg, for the social and literary betterment of its members, W. M. Boone and others incorporators. The Cross Creek Motor Car Co., Fayetteville, capital $25,000 by J. E. Ellington, A. A. McKeathan and others for a general garage and automobile business. The Hope Day Nursery (Inc.), Winston-Salem, for taking care of the children of negro mothers who work out.

That it will require a week or longer to ascertain exactly the amounts of the shortage of Cashier Hart, the suicide, and Assistant Cashier Hussey, of the Bank of Tarboro, and that the total shortage will reach $125,000 and possibly more, is the opinion of State Bank Examiner J. K. Doughton, who spent Sunday here with his family. He has devoted nearly a week in trying to clear the tangled conditions, but the false entries and manipulations cover such a long period that long and tedious work are necessary to go through all the transactions. He has come to the conclusion that the defalcations have been going on for seves years or losger, but that it has been only within the past few months that they have been in very considerable amounts.

STUDY APPLE GROWING.

Experts From Other States Investigating Around Asheville.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., June 19.—There are now three men in this section from other States investigating the conditions of apple growing. Two of these are from New York and one is from the Hood river valley apple district of Oregon. The Oregon man nas had over 16 years of experience in the industry and is well known as a writer and expert on anything pertaining to the subject. He had just about closed a deal for a farm here which he will plant to apples. He is well satisfied with the conditions here, especially the climate and he says that he is surprised that the people get such good results with so little effort. He stated that if the people here would give the apples the same attention that they are given in the West the Western apples cannot compare with our apples. Also that there are dollars here for the apple grower where there are pennies for the Western grower. He thinks there should be a fruit growers' association in this section and that the growers should pay more attention to the packing of the apples.

STORM NEAR WILSON.

Crops Badly Damaged and Other Havoc Wrought.

Wilson, N. C., June 19.—The Daily Times this afternoon says:

"Although last night's storm was only moderate in Wilson, it was quite severe about three miles east of town, and much damage resulted. The storm centered from the Amerson farm to the Simms Mill trestle, and all crops in that vicinity were damaged by the heavy rain, hail and wind, the latter being of cyclonic fury.

"The greatest sufferers are Capt. J. G. Roney, Mr. A. P. Moore and at the F. W. Barnes Amerson place. Capt. Roney returned from his farm this morning and stated that his tenants estimate his damage at $1,000. He had eight or ten acres of tobacco badly damaged by hail and wind, and one tobacco shed was blown down, two tobacco barns unroofed and a front porch torn from a dwelling. Capt. Roney's other crops beside tobacco also suffered to some extent.

"Mr. Paul Moore was perhaps the greatest loser from the effects of the storm. He had thirty acres of cotton and corn fearfully damaged by hail and wind, one tenant house, one pack house, one tobacco barn, one of his tenant's stables and one of their barns were blown down. The front door of his home was blown in, and one of the trees blown down fell across a corner of the house, knocking a hole in the roof. Mr. Moore's damage is estimated at between $2,000 and $2,500.

"At the Amerson place, in addition to the great damage to crops, three tenant houses and one barn were blown down. Other farmers in the neighborhood suffered some damage also. Altogether, probably the total loss will be $10,000.

"Fortunately, the storm was confined to a comparatively small section, and the greatly needed rain was highly beneficial to crops generally."

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Washington Young Man Depressed on Account of Death of Fiancee.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., June 18.—A great deal of excitement was occasioned here this afternoon about 4 o'clock when it became known that Charles Ricks, the oldest son of Sheriff Geo. E. Ricks, of this city, had attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. It seems that Ricks was in low spirits and very despondent over the death of his fiancee, which occurred at the Fowle Hospital this morning after a very short illness from appendicitis. Young Ricks was very much devoted to the young lady and her death was a great shock to him, and he had been in a very depressed condition all day. His mount had been at his bed side all day, and happened to leave the room for a few minutes. Mr. James McCluer, a friend of Ricks coming in the meantime, had gone up to his room to try to cheer him a little. Finding the door locked he suspicioned something wrong and immediately called the family, upon forcing the door they found Ricks lying on the bed with a deep gash cut in his throat and the bed covered with blood. Almost every doctor in town was summoned and arrived a few minutes afterwards. Dr. John G. Blount and Dr. J. L. Nicholson arrived first and sewed up the wound. The anterior juglar vein had been cut and the young man lost a great deal of blood, but the doctors hope that he may recover though his condition at present is precarious. Ricks is about 23 years of age, a young man of good habits and well thought of in the city.

SATURDAY NIGHT QUARREL.

Shooting Affair in Asheville—Suit Against Express Co.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., June 19.—As the result of a quarrel Saturday night, T. M. Andrews was shot in the left arm and is now in the Mission Hospital. It is alleged that the shot was inflicted by a man named Adams, who has recently come to this country from Indiana. Both men reside in the West Asheville section. According to reports men quarrelled about a debt and Andrews knocked Adams down; that he arose and was again knocked down; and that while he was on the ground the second time he drew his pistol and fired at Andrews, the shot taking effect in the arm. It is not thought that the wounded man's condition is serious.

In the Superior Court Saturday Judge James L. Webb, upon motion of counsel for the defense, non-suited the case of Horace E. Graham vs. the Southern Express Company, on the ground that there was no ground for action. The case was called Friday and proceeded until yesterday when the motion was made. Graham was suing the company for damages of $2,000 for alleged injuries to his reputation by reason of his arrest and trial in Superior Court charged with the embezzlement of $600 while he was in the employ of the company in 1... He was acquitted of the charge. Judge Webb held that the company had nothing to do with the arrest and the trial on the charge.

WHITEVILLE NEWS.

Crops in Columbus Fine—Personal and General Items.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., June 19.—With the single exception of tobacco, there was never a finer crop prospect in Columbus county. Since the rains set in the seasons have exactly fitted in, enabling farmers to clean their fields and at the same time keep vegetation growing. Early corn is now being laid by and it is grand. There are good stands of cotton, and while the acreage is somewhat under last year, it is very promising. Mr. John K. Davis, of Fairmont, Route 3, sends the News-Reporter several stalks of cotton over knee high and well covered with squares. There never was a brighter outlook for our Columbus county farmers than at this time.

Rev. Chas. C. Smith left this morning on his six weeks' vacation to Philadelphia, New York and other places. The Baptist church has not as yet arranged for supplying the pulpit during his absence.

Miss Harriet Day, eacher of voice in Meredith College, after several weeks' visit to Miss Annie Memory, left this morning for Kenansville, N. C., where she will visit before returning to her home in Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Grady and Miss Rachel Grady, returned Saturday from Raleigh, where they attended the marriage of Mrs. Grady's sister, Miss Frances Jane Culbreth and Dr. Boney Wells Page.

Sunday afternoon Misses Fay and Mamie Memory, of Whiteville, and Miss Mary Lynch Johnson, of Raleigh, went out to the County Home and sang for the inmates. It was an act of thoughtful kindness and appreciated by these unfortunates. Miss Fay Memory has a sweet and trained voice, and is one of the most charming ladies in our Southland.

Miss Mary Lynch Johnson, the accomplished young daughter of Rev. Livingston Johnson, of Raleigh, is visiting relatives in Whiteville.

GIRLS MAY BE RELEASED.

Probably Did Not Shoot to Kill W. E. D. Stokes In New York.

New York, June 19.—Because three bullets imbedded in the wall of the apartments of Ethel Conrad and Lillian Graham, lie close to the floor, a magistrate decided this afternoon that the young women probably had not intended to kill W. E. D. Stokes when they shot him two weeks ago, and ordered a reduction of from $10,000 to $5,000 in their bail.

June 22nd was set for the impreliminary hearing to determine whether Stokes wishes to withdraw the charge of attempting to kill and substitute one of felonious assault. Although bail for the girls was not forthcoming this afternoon the magistrate said he would accept bonds at any time they are presented.

Has anybody here heard Tally? Tally with his tenor voice.

Disbursing clerks at Washington ought to disburse the funds and not disturb them.

The man who discovers some economic use for the English sparrow is one of the possibilities of the times.

A man may pose as a statesman at home and know how to sit down and quit posing when he gets in the main push.

If we would do unto others as we should have others do unto us, we wouldn't get rich so quick in our dealings with them.

The shortest words in the English language will make a man fight like blue blazes unless the other fellow is big enough to be beneath his notice.

A politician who can make a cross roads audience howl over his oratory most likely would not be heard of as a speaker if he were sent to Congress. In one instance he is in his element and in the other he is not in it.

Prosperity is when a few of us get rich off the balance of us, and a panic comes when the crowd hasn't anything left to make business lively. A panic is a period of sober reflection after a mad rush to get rich pick.

Miss Broward, of Florida, daughter of the late Senator Broward, has been admitted to the bar. No doubt she will thoroughly examine Parsons on Contracts before she will enter into a matrimonial partnership with any other lawyer.

Probably Greensboro was an auditorium town as long as she cared to be. Doubtless, North Carolina's gate city didn't have time to be messing around with an auditorium that isn't needed except some two or three times in a year.

A man up North claims he saw a sea serpent in hot pursuit of a school of whales. An ordinary man only "sees snakes," hence we know that man surely was a high brow who could drink to excess without losing his enlarged scope of vision.

A man may pose as a stateman at home and yet have to depend upon the Congressional Record to create the impression that he is cutting all sorts of ice in shaping the destines of the nation. Many a man goes to the bat but darned few can swat the sphere like Ty Cobb.

Says the Chester (Pa.) Republican: "What this country needs more than anything is a law that shall protect the just rights of the business man and at the same time insure to the private citizen deliverance from over exaction and oppression." That calls for a new statute that will compel compliance with the golden rule.

A writer objects to women's going into business and the professions, "because it changes the physiognomy of women, the smiling, lovely, womanly face giving way to the face that takes on an aspect of seriousness and shrewdness." Yes, but women are getting tired winning with a smile and a face that won't hold its own very long at a time.

"How can we make dancing less popular?" inquires a lecturer who doesn't believe in frivolities. We know of no better plan than to adopt the Chicago propositon that the girls should dance by themselves while the men should attend nothing but "stag" dances. Segregated dancing parties like that wouldn't have any better attendance than a Friday night prayer meeting.

TRUNK LINES FOR WILMINGTON.

The joint operation of the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Railroad by the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Seaboard Air Line, would mean that the Carolina Central division of the Seaboard Air Line, from Wilmington to Bostic, would become a link in a trunk line to Cincinnati and the Middle West. It would signify that Wilmington would be one of the Atlantic port terminals of the new combination, and that Charlotte would be one of the largest Southern cities on the new trunk line.

This rumored new deal is one fraught with great possibilities, and it is entertaining to contemplate it. In an editorial from the Charlotte Chronicle, reproduced in the Star on Sunday, the Chronicle, noting some of these possibilities, remarked that "the advantages to accrue to Charlotte would not be altogether on the freight side of the ledger," for it is natural to conclude that "one thing of immense consequence would be the opening of a direct passenger line to Cincinnati." It would also mean direct rail communication with Chicago and other great Western cities, and that is exactly what we will have sooner or later. Long ago The Star predicted that the construction of the Panama Canal would set the great railroad systems of the West to seeking outlets at the South Atlantic ports. As a matter of fact, the building of short links between railways which already exist really is all that is required to be done for the Western trunk lines to get into Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah and Jacksonville.

As to the Clinchfield proposition, the Charlotte Chronicle goes on to say: "The direct route from Charlotte to Cincinnati has long been a dream of this city. Perhaps that dream is at last to be realized."

There is nothing fantastic about that dream, either now or remotely. There is no telling what a day or a week will bring forth in the movement of the railroads, and as Wilmington should logically be one of the Atlantic objectives of the Western trunk lines, we confidently expect some of these days to hear all sorts of railroad news.

We expect to see the day that Wilmington will have direct rail connection with the West and the Middle West, and it is no idle dream to predict that through passenger and freight trains will before many years be run from Chicago, Cincinnati and other Western cities bound for our South Atlantic ports.

The fact is, Wilmington already has a link over the A. & Y. division of the Atlantic Coast Line and the Sanford-Mt. Airy branch of the Southern Railway to Walnut Cove, where the Western trunk line of the Coast Line and the Norfolk & Western would make it possible to run trains from Cincinnati to Wilmington. It is not beyond the incredible to believe that in a few years, this port will have the advantage of two trunk lines to the West, and if Wilmington will create the export business, we will see this dream realized at an early period. If not, why not?

Western railroad connections is the one great object of our Southern ports at this time, for it is through them that they must to a great extent get commerce for the Isthmian waterway traffic. The Western roads also have an eye to this business, hence they have their eyes on such ports as we have on the South Atlantic. They will need every one of these ports in their business, and it is up to Wilmington to closely watch the new railroad deals and not get left on any of them, if possible. The Western roads are already in the field, linking up and providing our South Atlantic ports with the receiving and distributing facilities that their lines will afford. The "Big Four," is already in the game, for the Jacksonville Times-Union of June 16th, notes "advices from the Big Four Route, announcing the completion of its new line into Evansville, Ind., giving the South a new short route to and from Chicago, Peoria and all points in the North and Northwest." Says our esteemed Jacksonville contemporary:

"The new road will be put in active operation July 1, and fast schedules have been arranged, making close connection with all roads touching Evansville. This will give the shippers and receivers in this territory a new short route in connection with the Louisville & Nashville Railroad to Chicago and the Northwest. At the present time the Big Four is handling traffic from the South via Cincinnati, Louisville, Cairo and East St. Louis, and the completion of the new extension gives that line one more Ohio river gateway to the Southern territory."

No one need be surprised at "advices" like these, for it is to Southern ports that the Western lines will have to make extensions. They have all the Northern connections necessary, and it is the Panama Canal that now makes it the South's turn to receive attention from the trunk lines. This is the law of railroad gravitation. The railroads will seek the logical outlets for traffic, and as that traffic naturally will flow to those ports which open the nearest route for canal business, it means inevitably that the traffic lines will head this way.

SOUTHEASTERN CORN SHOW.

We heard a hint the other day which leads us to believe that the next National Corn Exposition will come to Columbia, the entire State of South Carolina having joined in an invitation to the exposition when it was held last Fall at Columbus, Ohio. Had the enterprising South Carolinans made it known to North Carolina, Virginia and Georgia, we have no doubt these States would also have joined in the efforts to get the corn show for Columbia. Since one good turn deserves another, we could have pulled South Carolina our way whenever we took a notion to land the corn exposition for Wilmington, or some North Carolina, Virginia or Georgia city, alternately. It really makes no difference where it is held, since we get the American corn growers in the habit of holding some of their expositions at different points in the South. It is really rotation that we are after, and we must have it.

This thing of growing corn in the South has gotten to be an attractive proposition, for corn growing has come to stay where we can grow corn after the manner of the Boys' Corn Clubs, which we are perfectly willing to follow. Even should Columbia not get the National Exposition, we will have a show of our own, for Atlanta has had to go and start something. The Chamber of Commerce of the Georgia city has decided to "pull off" the "Southeastern Corn Show" there next Autumn, and the Journal announces that it "bids fair to be one of the most stimulating and broadly profitable events of the year. If Columbia gets the National Exposition why not all unite in making it a notable Southern event? Atlanta can get the exposition later and then all will help her to make it a tremendous event. However, if Columbia can't be the exposition city this Fall, it should be Atlanta for the entire new corn belt.

We are informed by the Journal that at the proposed Atlanta exposition there will be not only a display of grain, but also of the methods through which grain harvests are produced. A series of exhibits will show the progress of the past quarter of a century in agricultural appliances and methods. Certainly that would be a striking feature, and the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce is so much in earnest that it is working out all the details of the undertaking.

In that connection, it is the purpose of the Atlanta business men to arrange for a number of excursions to Atlanta from Georgia and other States with a view to having all boys' corn clubs to attend the show. There are already 87 clubs in Georgia, and hundreds more in other Southern States, so we see the Atlanta scheme is quite an ambitious one. That is Atlanta's way, however, for it is characteristic of her to bore with a big augur. That is the reason Atlanta is Atlanta.

The New York Mail says a man married a girl he met in a graveyard. A girl certainly knows where to take a man after she finds out he is dead in love with her.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is said that James B. Duke's business motto is, "Find out what the other fellow is going to do, and do it first." A better expression of his policy seems to be, "Find out where the other fellow is—and do him up."—Richmond Virginian.

"Another railroad is heading toward Southport; but we would advise our friends in that good town to stand by Capt. Harper and his steamer Wilmington until they see the headlight of the train."—Charity and Children. And then keep on standing by him will be advice of every North Carolina editor who knows the genial captain. And they nearly all do.—Greenville Reflector.

Now they say that Jimmie Garfield and Giff Pinchot are preparing to "throw their strength" to President Taft. Of course! of course. When they thought they could embarrass him, they were against him: Now that they find him invincible they discover that they are for him. Well, President Taft knows who his fair-weather friends are. His only embarrassment is that when he faces the next campaign, he must stagger under the handicap of Garfield and Pinchot.—Washinton Post.

There is nothing like being an optimist right. Says The Wilmington Star: "The coronation will leave a mint of money in England, and since England buys most of the South's cotton, we are pleased to note that Downing Street will have stacks of money to do business with us this Fall." Hadn't thought of it in that light. It is altogether probable that the South will profit from the coronation, it is said it will cost about $100,000,000, but we are not going to sell them any of our cotton for less than sixteen cents or thereabouts.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Wilmington Star: "Our beloved contemporary, the Petersburg Index-Appeal, is worried over "the way in which certain North Carolina papers "claim things." Don't worry over a little thing like filing claims that endanger the monopoly of our genial Virginia contemporaries. The thing that frets us most is that every time North Carolina claims, Virginia exclaims." We exclaim because of the nature of North Carolina's claims. No title of ownership can be too securely vested to prevent our Southern neighbor laying claim to it, the property. We have for a long while believed this indicated no larcenous intent. It is just a habit of mind.—Petersburg Index-Appeal.

LETTER OF INVITATION.

In preparation for the annual State reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, which will be held in this city August 2nd and 3rd, Cape Fear Camp, No. 254, is sending out a cordial letter of invitation to every camp in the State. The local veterans are working to make the coming event the most successful ever held in North Carolina, and are sparing no pains to arrange for the entertainment of the visiting members and their families. The letter of invitation is as follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., June 20, 1911.

"To the Commander and Comrades of "The comrades of Cape Fear Camp, No. 254, U. C. V., and the city of Wilmington, most cordially invite you to be with us on the 2nd and 3rd of August, 1911, for the reunion of Confederate veterans of North Carolina. We want to show you how royally welcome you will be. We assure you that you will capture this whole community. They will surrender most willingly their hearts and homes for your entertainment.

"Tell us at once how many you will bring and we will find for your convenience, hotels and boarding houses, at very reasonable rates.

"We will gladly take care of those veterans who are unable to pay for their accommodations if you will, no later than two weeks before the reunion, let us know how many we shall take care of.

"Bring your band of music with you, and we will give them quarters and meals free.

"For further information, write to

"L. LEON, Chairman."

The finance committee, which was appointed to raise the $2,000 needed to pay the expenses of the reunion, is meeting with very fair success, but the sum is not yet complete and it is hoped that all those who desire to make a contribution to this worthy cause will call on or notify Chairman H. C. McQueen, so that a member of the committee may call and get the donation.

LOSES SECOND CHILD.

Two Children of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hayes Die Within Month.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hayes will learn with much regret of the death of their infant daughter, Mary Eliza, 18 months old, who died Sunday night at the home, No. 907 Chesnut street. The fact that this is their second bereavement in less than a month makes the circumstances all the more sad. Their four-year-old child was buried on May 27th. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the home. It was conducted by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, assisted by Rev. E. C. Sell, pastor of Trinity Methodist church. Interment was in Bellevue cemetery. In this latest affliction Mr. and Mrs. Hayes will have the tenderest sympathy of the community.

BIG PYTHIAN RALLY.

Local Pythians have already begun arrangements for a big district rally to mark the installation of Col. Walker Taylor in the office of Vice-Chancellor of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina. All the lodges in the district will be invited to send representatives to the meeting. The installation ceremonies will be participated in by Mr. C. C. McLean, of Greensboro, Chancellor Commander, and other Grand Lodge Officers. Colonel Taylor was not present at the Asheville meeting, when he was elected; therefore he was not installed when the other officers were inducted into office.

Shooting Affray in Brunswick.

Acting Deputy Sheriff H. A. Williams, of Brunswick county, was in the city yesterday with Weldon Kelly, a 13-year-old negro boy, charged with shooting Wash Green, another colored lad, at Navassa Sunday afternoon about 2 o'clock. The boys had quarreled over some trivial matter and Kelly later walked up to where the other boy was sitting on the porch of a friend and calmly emptied the load from a shotgun in his right arm and side. Although the wound is serious, it is not considered fatal. Mr. Williams will take the boy to Southport today on the steamer Wilmington to await trial at the Fall term of court.

THE THIN AND WEAK.

Easy Way for Them to Get Strong and Fat.

To thin and weak J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. has a word to say. Let them use Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, that is now so popular, and they will soon be plump and rosy.

Samose is not an ordinary medicine; it is a flesh-forming food that is adapted to the most delicate. Its tonic effect gives strength and health so that after its use for a short time, all the flesh and fat producing elements in the food will be easily assimilated and retained in the body.

The large sale druggists J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., have had on Samose since they first introduced it in Wilmington and the wonderful results following its use have made them such enthusiastic believers in its great merits that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose does not make thin people fat and restore strength and health.

When a gain in weight is noticed after Samose has been used for a week or ten days, and health has improved, and you notice yourself growing stronger, you certainly should feel more than satisfied with what you have received from the small cost of 50c.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION.

Established Plants Which Have Power Might Make Paving Blocks.

Editor Morning Star:

The city has about $400,000 to improve the streets. Probably over half of the amount will go for material. It looks like it would be a saving to the city for some one of the mills here which has the power, to install the necessary machinery and manufacture wooden blocks, which could probably be creosoted here also if necessary. This would keep the money here and in this vicinity, the circulation of which in our midst would probably offset the increased cost, if any, over brick or other material. Is not the suggestion worth looking into?

CROWDS FLOCK TO BEACHES

One of the Heaviest Sundays Tidewater Power Co. Has Ever Had—Hundreds from Near-by Towns Spent Day Here.

Hundreds visited Wrightsville Beach Sunday and spent the time most pleasantly at Lumina, North Carolina's pleasure palace. The traffic on the surburban line was the heaviest of any day this season and probably equalled that of any Sunday last season, even in mid-Summer. While there were several hundred visitors in the city from nearby points on the Atlantic Coast Line, which gives a cheap Sunday rate, most of the number hauled by the Tidewater Power Co. are Wilmingtonians, serving to illustrate the fact that the beach is growing more popular with the people of this city as well as with those in other parts of North Carolina.

The rolling equipment of the Tidewater Power Co. was well taxed to take care of the crowds, but the schedule was unusually well observed and the traffic was handled as expeditously as possible. Three and four car express trains with one and two car locals were operated throughout the afternoon and evening. It will be of interest to the public to know that the receipts of the Tidewater Power Co. to date from the suburban line are greater than up to the same time last year, notwithstanding the fact that there have been no conventions on the beach this year to draw hundreds of visitors. It will also be of interest to learn that there are more people living on the beach now than at this time last year. While there were not a great many people at the hotels up to last week, both are well filled now and the boarding houses have a goodly number.

Wrightsville Beach did not get all the people Sunday, for Carolina Beach got its full share of the pleasure seekers. The steamer Wilmington was crowded on each of its trips to the pier. There were a large number in the surf in the afternoon, probably the largest crowd of the season.

The Seashore Hotel is well filled with guests and it is quite likely that from now until the close of the season there will be a large crowd at the popular hostelry, which now offers many improvements over the splendid accommodations of previous seasons. There is no more popular resort hotel in the South and none which has a more select class of guests. Many of the guests at the hotel now have been coming to the resort for a number of years and always stop with Capt. Edgar L. Hinton at his popular hotel. There are also a number of new faces and some from points never before represented at the beach, inducating that the popularity of the resort is growing from year to year.

Fishing on the outside has been unusually fine this season and the several large parties out from the Seashore Hotel have had remarkably good luck with the finny tribe. The fish bite better than usual and most of the fish which have been caught are much larger than those caught last season. There are several boats at the Seashore Hotel for the use of the guests and others on the beach. The boats are operated by Capt. Wells, as formerly.

R. B. Harrelson, Esq., and bride, formerly Miss Aman, of Bishopville, S. C., returned yesterday afternoon to their home at Mullins, S. C., after spending their honeymoon at the Seasnore Hotel. Mr. Harrelson is a prominent young attorney of Mullins and his bride is a most attractive young woman.

Among the recent arrivals at the Seashore are: C. R. Harrell, R. S. Harrell, E. Harrell and wife, Miss Harrell, Wr. R. Steadman, Thos, Barnitz, E. R. Elmore, Sallville, Va.; E. S. McCoy, Rowland. Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Gibson have returned to their home at Marion, S. C., after a delightful sojourn at the Seashore.

The day at the Oceanic was an unusually enjoyable one on account of the fine concerts rendered by the Post Artillery Band from Fort Caswell. The members of this band and the officers from the Fort were guests of the hotel for the week-end, an invitation having been extended them by the popular manager, Mr. Chas. E. Hooper. Morning and evening concerts were given and aside from the guests of the hotel, these were enjoyed by many Wilmingtonians who went out especially to hear the fine soldier band perform.

Among the recent arrivals at the Oceanic are the following: W. B. Tenny, New York; E. C. Love, Greensboro; J. M. Stack, wife and daughter, Monroe; G. R. Newark, Charlotte; W. S. Rowe and wife; Bennettsville, S. C.; William Rowe, Bennettsville; David Frank, New York, A. Wemberly, New York; O. T. Smith, Baltimore; G. V. Ogrely, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Everitt, Edwin Morgan, Laurinburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hopkins, of Waycross, Ga., are spending their honeymoon at the Oceanic. They were married several days ago at Waycross and expect to remain at Wrightsville for some time.

Sunday was also the big day of the present season at Lumina. Hundreds from nearby towns and cities availed themselves of the low week-end rates and spent a pleasant day on the beach. Wilmingtonians also nocked to the resort and Lumina and the beach in front of it was thronged with people. More bathers probably were in the surf Sunday afternoon than on any previous day this Summer. Notwithstanding the number of rooms in the pavillion, many had to stand in line and wait until some one came out before they could get a key. The programmes at the two concerts were unusually attractive and the pleased audience encored several of the numbers time and time again. The afternoon concert began at 4:30 and the evening concert at 8:30 o'clock.

BUYS VALUABLE REALTY

Mr. L. J. Carter Purchased the Morrison Property on North Front Street—Will Erect Handsome Building Thereon.

Mr. L. J. Carter, of the Hanover Realty Company, is the purchaser of the Morrison property, on the east side of Front street, between Grace and Walnut, which was sold at a mortgagee's sale at the Court House yesterday at noon. The property was bid in by Mr. Carter at $7,225, which is considered a bargain, as this is one of the most valuable lots in the city. The formal transfer of the property will take place as soon as Kenan & Stacy, attorneys for Mr. Carter, approve the title.

The property is the second building from Grace street on the east side of Front, at present occupied by Mr. Robt. H. Cowan. Mr. Carter will make a number of improvements on the building right away. He stated last night that it is his intention to erect in the near future a handsome store and office building on the lot. When this building goes up it will only be a short time thereafter before another building or two will take the place of all the old residences on Front street and turn the "White Way" into a business world from one end to the other.

Mr. Carter only recently removed to this city, coming here from Wallace. He is connected with the Hanover Realty Company which has offices in the Krahnke building, over the Southern Express Co's. office, on Chestnut street. He is showing his confidence in the future of the city by investing in her soil.

TWO HOUSES BURGLARIZED

Sunday Night Thief Entered Residences of Miss Anna Herring and Mrs. M. C. Benson and Robbed Boarders.

A negro burglar made a rather rich haul early yesterday morning when he entered the boarding houses of Miss Anna Herring, No. 19 Chesnut street, and Mrs. M. C. Benson, next west, and secured from the trouser pockets of some of the boarders a total of about $40 in money, besides a brand new suit of clothes and a practicallly new $5 fountain pen. The burglar was discovered at the home of Mrs. Benson and was recognized as a negro, but he was fleet of foot and made good his escape. The police are at work on the case.

Yesterday morning at 3 o'clock the police received a telephone message from the home of Mrs. Benson, No. 113 Chesnut street, to the effect that a burglar had visited the house only a few minutes before and asking for an officer. Sergeant E. J. Grimsley answered the call. He found that the house had been entered from the east east side, next to the boarding house of Miss Herring, through a window in the front room, which was occupied by Mrs. Benson and another lady. The intruder went through this room to the second floor, where he got a suit of clothes belonging to a Mr. Hudson, a barber at The Orton Hotel, and some $4 in money and a $5 fountain pen which were in the pockets of the clothes. The suit of clothes cost $26 and had not been worn until Sunday. After leaving Mr. Hudson's room the negro went out on the back porch and attempted to enter the room of another boarder, Mr. Davis, who was awakened by the noise. Mr. Davis gave the alarm and the negro, badly frightened, ran out of the house the same way he entered. He was seen by one of the ladies as he passed through their room in making his hasty exit. Mr. Walter Benson was awakened and he grabbed his pistol and started in pursuit of the negro, but did not get near enough to shoot at him. The officer found that the negro entered the house from a box which he had placed at the window. He also found near the box a pair of shoes which evidently belonged to the negro. It is thought that the negro removes his shoes before entering the dwellings.

The boarding house of Miss Herring next east, was evidently entered before the other place and by the same person. That the house had been entered and robbed was not discovered until 5 o'clock. Mr. W. N. Coin, one of the boarders, an employe of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., got up at that hour and happened to look about the room for his clotnes, which he soon realized had been moved during the night. Carrying his investigations a little further he found a pair of trousers in the hallway and later he found a suit of clothes and a pair of trousers or two in the yard. One pair of trousers in the yard belonged to Mr. Coin and in it was his watch, which the robber did not take. But the robber did take the $24 he had in one of his pockets, and from Mr. Coin's room-mate, Mr. I. O. Wortman he secured $2, while in another room he secured $4 from Mr. William Campbell and still another room he got $2 from Mr. Gerganus. The robber entered through an open window in one of the rooms in the part of the house occupied only by men boarders. The young men had their doors open and the robber had no difficulty in effecting entrance to the rooms.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Negro Drew Twleve Months for Larceny from Gaylord's Store.

The principal defendant in yesterday's session of the Recorder's court was Nelson Green, colored, arrested Saturday night on the charge of stealing two Panama hats, ten neckties, half a dozen pocket handkerchiefs and a pad of bone buttons from Mr. Geo. O. Gaylord's store, on North Front street. Having been captured with the goods in his possession, the negro had no defense. He was found guilty and sentenced to 12 months on the county roads.

William Fulcher, a white man, was tried on the charge of assault with deadly weapon on Mr. Thomas Ramsey, but judgment was reserved until today. The case was sent up from Magistrate Harriss' court. Mr. Fulcher submitted to Justice Bornemann Saturday on the charge of assault and battery, and later in the afternoon Mr. Ramsey swore out a warrant for him for assault with deadly weapon, alleging that he struck him with a stone. Still later Mr. Fulcher swore out a warrant before Justice Bornemann against Mr. Ramsey for assault with deadly weapon. Yew Yit, a Chinaman, was required to pay the costs in a case against him for leaving his horse on the streets unattended or unhitched. Several drunks were required to pay the usual amount.

THE ORPHANS' CONCERT FINE

Little Folks Entertained Large Audience With Their Clever Recitations and Delightful Vocal Music.

The audience that greeted the singing class of the Oxford Orphanage Asylum at their concert at the Academy of Music last night proves most conclusively that the Wilmington public is deeply in sympathy with this Masonic institution that is doing so much for the fatherless and motherless little ones of North Carolina. While not a capacity house, it was far better than has greeted some of the brilliant musical comedies and other attractions of that class that have appeared here in the past.

Those who attended were well rewarded, too, for although the concerts of this organization are noted for their real merit, last night's entertainment was, in the opinion of many, by far the best they have ever given in Wilmington.

To mention one number of the programme without calling attention to the others would be almost a positive injustice. They were all so good that it would be hard to find five people in the audience that would agree as to the number most deserving praise. The class is exceptionally well trained for an organization composed of children of their tenders years, and to say that they do their instructor credit is putting it very mildly. All evidence of stage fright is lacking and they deliver their respective pieces with a cheerfulness and an enthusiasm that goes direct to the hearts of their hearers. The class this year is composed of ten girls and four boys. Miss Sattie Marler is their teacher, and Mr. L. W. Alderman is manager. Those composing the class are Bessie Allen, Ruth Bland, Blandina Biggers, Rosa Forbes, Mary Hancock, Elizabeth Hutchens, Yvette King, Bessie Stevenson, Lillian White, Beatrice Wilson, Roscoe Franklin, Leonard Medlin, Fife Meador, Edgar Rolinson.

The programme, as rendered last night, was as follows:

The children were entertained at the Grand Theatre yesterday afternoon and today they will be the guests of the Tidewater Power Company, spending the greater part of the day at Lumina, on Wrightsville Beach. They will leave Wilmington on the afternoon train for Whiteville, where they will give a concert tonight.

Miss Grace Melvin won the first prize, offered by the local Masonic lodges, under whose auspices the concert was given, to the child selling the most tickets. Miss Mary Green won second prize and Master Dewey Potter third. The little folks worked hard to dispose of as man tickets as possible and their efforts deserved success.

Parasol Dance at Lumina.

A beautiful affair will be given at Lumina tonight in the form of a parasol dance. This will be the first parasol dance ever given at Lumina and the management expects to make it a very beautiful affair. The ball room will be handsomely decorated with pretty parasols. The affair should attract a large crowd.

First Trip in a Month.

The steamer C. W. Lyon, on the river run between Wilmington and Fayetteville, arrived yesterday for the first time in a month. The low water in the river made navigation impossible and the steamer went ashore at Walker's Bluff, where she remained until the water rose. She cleared late yesterday afternoon on the return trip.

BUSINESS MEN'S EXPRESS.

Increased Service to Beach After Office Hours—Schedule.

The "Business Men's Express" that proved so popular last year with many business men living along the Suburban Line and at the beach, will be put in service again this year beginning with today. The train leaves Front and Princess streets every afternoon except Saturdays and Sundays at 6:10 P. M., and after leaving the city stops only at Sea Gate, Bradley's Creek, Wrightsville and the beach. This train is a great convenience for many business men, as it provides a train for those who wish to leave town for their homes immediately after business hours, and who are unable to leave their places of business in time to catch the regular 6 o'clock train. The Tidewater Power Company is always seeking to improve its service in every way, and this train is an addition to the service that will no doubt be much appreciated by the suburbanites.

Another addition to the beach service will be a local train service on the beach, that will be put in during certain rush hours. Beginning with today a local train will operate between Station 1 and Lumina every half hour in the evening, this train going ahead of the express trains from town. This train is put in to take care of the large crowds that board the cars at the hotels bound for Lumina.

Dr. Keith Here Temporarily.

While Dr. W. T. Smith is away from the city on his trip abroad, for which he leaves this evening, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, his office in the Southern Building, second floor, will be in charge of Dr. H. L. Keith, of Southport, who has already arrived and taken charge. Dr. Keith is well known in Wilmington and throughout this section and has already received a cordial welcome.

By reference to advertisement elsewhere in today's paper it will be seen that all during the present week there will be special sales each day that should attract hundreds of buyers.

"My Heart Has Learned to Love You, Now Do Not Say Goodbye," sung for the first time by Mr. Tally at the Grand today. **

Another of the popular souvenir dances for children was given last night at Lumina, to the huge delight of a goodly number of the younger devotees of Terpsichore. In order to give the little ones more time to dance than they have had on former occasions, last night's affair began at 8 o'clock, instead of 8:30 as formerly, and the children held the floor until 9, when the souvenirs were distributed. Tonight a treat is promised the older dancers in the way of a parasol dance. The pavilion will be handsomely decorated with gay little Japanese parasols and these will be given as souvenirs.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING AT TOWNESVILLE, N. C.

Townesville, N. C., June 17.—On Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, June 14th, in Nut Bush Presbyterian church, Townesville, Vance county, were married Rev. Lachlan Cumming Vass, of Memphis, Tenn., and Miss Frances Stedman Sharp, the youngest daughter of Col. and Mrs. John H. Sharp, formerly of Vance county, N. C., and now residing in Atlanta, Georgia.

The groom was for a number of years a well-known missionary in the Congo, Africa, and now has a pastorate in the city of Memphis, Tenn. He belongs to the well-known Maury and Vass families, of Virginia.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Carr Moore, the pastor of Nut Bush church of which the bride is a member and it was one of the most beautiful and impressive marriage ceremonies ever witnessed in this section. The church was most beautifully and tastefully decorated by friends of the bride, with Southern smilax and white roses, in ropes and festoons. The entire church was carpeted in white and the candles gleamed with a soft light through the delicate green. The church was filled with a very handsome and cultured audience.

The ushers were: Mr. Philip Hunt, of Townesville; Mr. Chesley Watkins, of Henderson, and Mr. Thomas Royster, of Townesville. Miss Florence Southall Sharp, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Harry Vass Allen, of New York, was the best man. Little Miss Katharine Willoughby Patton, of New York, the grand daughter of Dr. Francis S. Patton, was the dainty little flower girl, and just preceded the beautiful bride who wore an exquisite gown of white satin wrought with pearls. Her bouquet was a shower wreath of lilies of the valley. She wore a long veil of white tulle held in place by a magnificent coronet of real pearls from Italy. The bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Walker, of Spray, N. C.; Miss Amy Stockard, of Raleigh, N. C., and Miss Elizabeth Morton, of Townesville. They were beautifuly attired in pink marquisette over white taffeta and carried shower bouquets of pink and sweet peas. The maid of honor, Miss Florence S. Sharp, wore white marquisette over blue satin and carried a shower bouquet of white swet peas. The best man wore a full dress suit.

The presents were numerous and costly. The bride's family presented a chest of valuable silver, and the mother of the groom presented the bride with a handsomes and valuable silver service adorned with rose and tistle design, with a presentation note from her husband's mother which she received with the present over forty years ago, at her wedding.

The many presents filled a large table in the parlor where an elegant reception was given the bridal party by Capt. and Mrs. J. M. B. Hunt, at their beautiful ancestral home.

After the close of the evening festivities the groom and his bride left for a northern trip which will include Washington, New York, Boston and Schenectady. They will then return to Memphis, Tenn., where Mr. Vass is the assistant pastor of the Second Church, one of the largest Presbyterian churches in the Southern Assembly.

EASILY DECIDED

This Question Should be Answered Easily by Wilmington People.

Which is wiser—to have confidence in the opinions of your fellow-citizens, of people you know, or depend on statements made by utter strangers residing in far-away places? Read the following:

J. F. Hansley, 406 Walnut St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "My back and kidneys troubled me a great deal and I think it was due to my being on my feet so much. I suffered from dull, dragging backaches and I could not stoop without having sharp twinges in my loins. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and there was sediment in them. Some time ago when I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box from Bellamy's drug store and in a few days after I began their use, my pains and aches disappeared. I have felt so much better in every way since using Doan's Kidney Pills that I have no hesitation in recommending them." (Statement given February 25, 1908.)

No Trouble Since.

On December 27, 1910, Mr. Hansley said: "I have had no occasion to use any kidney medicine since I took Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago and I am glad to say that they brought me lasting benefit. You are welcome to continue publishing my former statement."

Grand Theatre.

Despite the hot weather the Grand continues to play to enormous crowds at each afternoon and night performance. There is really no reason why this playhouse should not get the masses of the public as by their great system of ventilation they are able to keep the house 10 to 15 degrees cooler than the outside temperature. There is not another place in the city that has gone to this great expense to make their house comfortable at any time to their patrons. The music and singing that is heard at the Grand is without a doubt the best in its class to be obtained. Today they will present three head-liner pictures: among them will be shown the great Biograph picture, "Enoch Arden," (part second). A few days ago the Grand had part one of this subject from Lord Tennyson's poems and those who saw it will miss a treat by not seeing this second part. Mr. Tally will sing "My Heard Has Learned to Love You," something entirely new and beautifully illustrated. Doors open at 2 P. M.

At the Bijou.

What a big and glorious start of the week was made yesterday by the Bijou. It was, of course, another big day for attendance, the popular theatre being jammed, and the bill presented was a corker. Solid comfort was enjoyed by all, because the Bijou is one of the coolest places to be found anywhere and the people are well appreciative of this. Another stirring and strong war picture is among today's gems. This one, "The Railroad Riders," shows daring scenes during the Civil War. Another strong dramatic picture is "Proving His Love." A famous young actress puts her admirer's love to the test; all but one withdraw; he proves loyal to his troth. The music for today is going to be of the merriest type, headed by the big favorite, Mr. Frank Banks, with a brilliant illustrated song success, "The Vitagraph Girl," written especially for the leading lady of the Vitagraph Stock Co.

The Airdome.

Last night the programme at the Airdome was enjoyed to such extent, especially the vocal part, that Manager Pfeiffer has arranged a similar bill for tonight—giving the same quantity with as much variety as possible. Mr. Anson will sing a tenor solo, the quartette has a treat for harmony lovers, and Mr. Reilly has a new illustrated song. The pictures will be more than pleasing, several excellent comedy subjects and good dramatic subjects. The orchestra always plays new and entertaining selections and will include several popular numbers this evening—7:30 to 11:30. The Airdome is the coolest amusement place in town. Everything new every day.

Preacher Again in Toils.

Rev. Wm. Boney, colored, who returned from the county roads last Friday from a three months enforced visit for assault with deadly weapon on his father-in-law, James H. Walker, was arrested again yesterday afternoon and spent the night in jail in default of bond. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Kelly on a peace warrant sworn out by Walker. Boney declared to Magistrate Harriss that he had made no threats against Walker and cried pitifully when informed that he would have to be locked up for the night. The "reverend" seems to have a sufficiency of "court troubles." The matter will be investigated at noon today.

Creates Disturbance at Beach.

Fannie Carroll, colored, was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff J. W. Brown for being drunk and disorderly when she returned from the colored excursion to Carolina Beach on the steamer Wilmington. According to the other negroes, the woman had been creating a disturbance at the beach all day and when arrested she resisted so strenuously that it was necessary for a policeman to go to the assistance of the deputy sheriff. She was lodged in the city prison to await trial today.

TEXACO ROOFING

is made of solid, extra heavy, first quality, wool felt, thoroughly saturated with Texaco Bitumen, over 99 per cent pure, and afterward finished with an extra heavy coating of the same material.

TEXACO BITUMEN—over 99 per cent pure — possesses great fire-resisting properties, is not oxidized by the action of the elements, is impervious to the action of acids, fumes and gases, is not injured by the extremes of heat and cold, and remains adhesive and pliable.

The weakest point of ready roofing is at the lap, due to the disintegration and hardening of the cement used, but Texaco Roofing Cement, made of bitumen over 99 per cent pure, insures a permanent waterproof lap.

The principal merits of TEXACO ROOFING are:
ECONOMY of first cost and application.
SIMPLICITY and ease of application.
PERFECTION of weather and water-resisting qualities.
MAXIMUM of strength and durability.
FIRE-RESISTING.
PLIABILITY and immunity from injury by extremes of temperature; and, last but not least,
A PERMANENT LAP, by use of Texaco Roofing Cement, which gives security, strength and waterproofing at the weakest point of a roof.

VIOLENT BREAK FOR COTTON

Market Closed at New Loss of 10 to 24 Points—Renewal of General Liquidation and Aggressive Bear Pressure.

New York, June 19.—Reports of further rains in the Western belt caused a renewal of general liquidation and aggressive bear pressure in the cotton market today and there was another violent break in prices with the close steady, but at a net loss of from 10 to 24 points.

The market opened easy at a decline of 6@18 points, and was rather irregular during the early trading, as a good deal of profit taking by recent sellers developed around the initial figures and as the official weather map failed to show as much rain in the Southwest as suggested by private reports.

Liquidation continued, however, and while prices worked up from the lowest, with August leading the recovery, and at one time selling about 6 points net higher, the market remained very much unsettled and following private reports that it was raining today at Galveston, again turned weak and in the late afternoon sold about 16 to 25 points net lower on the old crop and from 14 to 16 points below the closing figures of last week on new crop positions. July was the weakest month, selling off to 14.60, compared with 16.15, the high point of last month, while October contracts sold as low as 13.13, compared with 13.79, the high level of last week.

Closing prices were up a shade from the lowest, on covering, but while there was some buying by trade interests and a little support from one of the leading bull brakers, most of the demand appeared to be in the way of short realizing on recent sales, and sentiment was evidently against prices, owing to expectations of a bearish government condition report early next month.

Official detailed weather reports for Texas showed precipitation at only about 16 points over Sunday, ranging up to a little less than an inch, but today's temperatures being lower, the action of the market suggested a more favorable view of Western belt weather conditions on the average. Private cables from Liverpool reported that spinners were calling cotton freely on the decline and there was some trade buying of old crop months in the local market.

Receipts today, 796 bales, against 2,652 last week and 6,698 last year. For the week 12,000 bales, against 12,773 last week, and 23,304 last year.

Today's receipts at New Orleans, 353 bales, against 3,517 last year, and at Houston, 80 bales, against 392 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 20 points lower; middling uplands, 15.30; middling gulf, 15.55; no sales.

Futures opened steady and closed steady.

A HIGHER RANGE FOR STOCKS

Weakness of Last Week Has Disappeared—Attempts to Depress the Market Discouraged—Trading Was Smaller.

New York, June 19.—A substantially higher range of prices prevailed through the greater part of the day in the stock market and the weakness which was exhibited in the latter part of last week disappeared. The improvement was attributed to favorable developments over the week end and to some increase in the outside demand for stocks.

Commission houses orders were said to have reached a larger total than on any other Monday in several weeks, and although trading fell off somewhat at the higher prices, the inquiry was sufficiently keen to prevent a setback and to discourage attempts to depress the market. It was not until near the close of the day, when profits were taken, that stocks lost a portion of their gains.

The successful flotation of the Panama bond issue was of decided influence in encouraging and returning a spirit of optimism in the financial world, and doubtless was responsible to some extent for the course of the market today. The bonds sold "when issued" in large amounts on the curb today at 103¾ to 103 5-16, the rise in price from 1.02⅝, at which they sold on Saturday before the bids were opened indicating that the offers ranged somewhat higher than was expected. A further favorable influence was found in the government report on iron and steel exports. The government's estimate of the aggregate value of these exports during the fiscal year placed it at more than $30,000,000 above the highest previous record, a showing which exceeded expectations.

Crop reports which are being watched with increasing interest in the stock market were confused today and unfavorable advices from the Northwest were associated with the comparative heaviness of the Hill stocks. The railroad stocks, as a whole, however, were the strongest in the list. There was a good demand for the copper stocks and Amalgamated Copper sold at the high point of the year. The trading in this group was influenced by the continued improvement in the metal trade. The electric also displayed unusual strength, General Electric rising 3 points. The annual report of International Mercantile Marine, showing a decided improvement in earnings, caused a brisk buying of both the common and preferred issues, which improved in price.

The bond market was firm. Total sales, par value, $2,629,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks for the day, 279,100 shares.

machinery had been so perfected that everything worked smoothly.

While 9 o'clock had been named as the hour at which the reception began, no time was fixed for the end of the festivities and it was after midnight when the Engineer band struck up "Home Sweet Home," the last dancer swept out on the floor of the East room and the President felt that he could retire.

Congratulatory cablegrams from many of the rulers of the world poured into the White House today including among others, message from the Emperor of Germany, the President of France, Emperor Mutsuhito, of Japan; the Emperor of China, King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy; King Alphonso, of Spain; King Gustaf, of Sweden, and President Arosomena, of Panama. British Ambassador Bryce called at the White House to personally express the congratulations of the King and Queen of England.

During the festivities George B. Schmucker, former consul of the United States to Ensenada, was arrested at the east entrance of the White House. The ex-consul insisted on having his card sent in to the President, saying that he wanted to see him on urgent business. He conducted himself in such a manner as to attract the attention of the detectives scattered through the grounds and was taken into custody. He was later sent to the Washington asylum hospital where he is held for observation.

Schmucker was recently relieved from his post at Ensenada owing to a nervous breakdown. He returned to this country recently and has been stopping at Staunton, Va., but came to Washington today.

Theodore F. Shuey, an uncle of Schmucker, and an official stenographer of the Senate, called at detective headquarters tonight and asked that Schmucker be held for observation. No weapons were found on Schmucker.

CONVICTS MEET DEATH.

Unusual Accident in Heart of Smoky Mountains—Injured.

Newport Tenn., June 19.—Four convicts were killed, 12 seriously injured, and 14 convicts and three guards slightly injured today in the collapse of a bull pen near Waterville, N. C., in the heart of the Smokies, where two railroad companies are engaged in a war for the monopoly of the only remaining mountain pass to the east. The convicts were all negroes, the property of the State of North Carolina, and were being worked in connection with the construction work of the Transcontinental Railroad.

The men killed were Albert Wynn, of Goldsboro, serving a sentence of 10 years for receiving stolen goods; Will Green, of Raleigh, serving sentence of four years for murder, Henry Paul, of Newbern, serving a sentence of three years for larceny; Clarence Walker, of western North Carolina, serving a sentence of seven years for larceny. All four men had only a few months of their time to serve, one or two being due to leave the camp in August.

Major Wynn, of Goldsboro, convicted at the same time as his brother who was killed, and Sylvester Parham, serving a 30-year sentence for murder, are not expected to live.

Capt. J. E. Hoskins, of Raleigh, who was in charge of the prisoners, went down with the pen and had to be dug from the debris, suffering several painful injuries. Guards J. E. Nichols and Ed. McKerney had narrow escapes from death, but were only slightly injured.

Last week the convicts were brought into the mountains and it was announced that they were being worked by the State of North Carolina as their contribution toward the construction of the Transcontinental Railroad. The Tennessee & North Carolina Railroad which is running its trains to within two miles of the scene of today's accident, claims the right-of-way on which the Transcontinental road had started work and were ready with an injunction, so it is stated, to restrain the convicts from further work.

The convicts were located in the very heart of the Smokies, where their camp looked down into the Pigeon river, 150 feet below. The pen was 30x80 feet, the piles acting as supports being about six feet in height near the edge of the trail and 28 feet in height to the rear. The building was constructed of heavy logs and it was the great weight of the top which caused it to collapse.

This morning, just after the men had gotten up the rear piles began to slip and the heavy building slid forward, pinning the men between the giant rafters of the ceiling and the rafters supporting the flooring, where the timbers came together the men were terribly mangled and the four met instant death in this way. Trees prevented a greater fall and the demolished structure came to a standstill about 65 feet down the side of the bank.

Not a man in the building escaped injury. An old negro preacher serving sentence for arson, standing on the bank, ave the alarm, but it was too late. The building was divided into two parts, one for the pen and the other for the kitchen.

WARE-KRAMER TOBACCO SUIT

Another Day of Interesting Testimony in Anti-Trust Case at Raleigh—System of Espionage Is Also Sought to be Proved.

Raleigh, N. C., June 19.—There was brief testimony this afternoon in the suit of the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Co., against the American Tobacco Co., for $1,200,000 damages in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Depositions from New York were that it was controlled by the American Tobacco Co., in the tobacco business, that it had absorbed nearly all the independents and controlled the jobbers. A witness from Wilson, N. C., was put on to show espionage over the Ware-Kramer Co., by the American Tobacco Co., the express agent at Wilson being offered to show the same, but pending evidence to show the identity of the Ware-Kramer Co., of Wilson, with the same company, at Norfolk, the evidence was held up, subject to arument.

A deposition by A. H. Hilman, former tobacco jobber, of New York, setting out the conditions of the tobacco trade in New York under the domination of the American Tobacco Co., occupied the morning session of court and the oral testimony of J. R. Hardie, express agent and J. E. Morton, freight agent at Wilson, was heard during the afternoon session as to espionage on the part of the American Tobacco Co., in its fight against the Ware-Kramer people.

Hilman testified that he had been a tobacco jobber in New York 41 years prior to the coming of the Metropolitan Tobacco Co., to New York and that since the formation of this company he and 250 other jobbers had gone out of business because it was impossible to maintain a trade with the A. T. Co's., goods concentrated in the hands of the Metropolitan for competition. He said he established large trades with a number of independent manufacturers' goods, but each time the manufacturer would be bought up by the A. T. Co., and the trade he had worked up would pass to the Metropolitan Co. He testified that at the beginning of the war between the independents and the A. T. Co., the latter had about 60 per cent. of the Greater New York trade and that now it has fully 90 per cent. In his judgment it is impossible for a jobber to be successful in handling independent goods in the tobacco trade and that the concentration of the A. T. Co., goods in the hands of Metropolitan Co., had driven practically all the independent jobbers out of business.

The cross examination of Hilman brought out the fact that he did business as an independent jobber, preferring to handle the independent goods and that he is now in the tobacco business as a small manufacturer and maker of snuff; also that he is now being sued by the American Tobacco Co., for infringement of a trademark.

J. R. Hardie, express agent at Wilson, testified that when the Ware-Kramer Co., shipped goods through the Southern Express that representatives of Wels-Whitehead Co., then a part of the American Tobacco Co., would come with note book and take the addresses of the Ware-Kramer goods; that he took to packing the goods on the trucks with the addresses turned in so that they could not be seen and that then Wells-Whitehead employes would go to the trucks and turn the packages about so as to get the addresses. He testified that finally he wrote a note to M. Carter, manager of Wells-Whitehead Co., and gave him to understand that if this were not stopped there would be serious trouble. Carter replied that he would see that there was no further trouble, and there was no more.

Freight Agent J. E. Morton, of Wilson, testified that the Ware-Kramer Co., and the Wells-Whitehead factories were both close by the freight depot at Wilson and that the Wells-Whitehead Co., people could see when Ware-Kramer Co., was making shipments and that they would send men out to the freight shed with note books to write down the addresses of the goods being shipped by the Ware-Kramer Co.

POSTAL BANKS' SHOWING.

Lively Demand for Government Bonds Says Head of the System.

Washington, June 19.—A statement issued today by Postmaster General Hitchcock shows that a total of $390,066 was deposited in the first 48 postal savings banks in the five months of their operation.

The second group of 45 depositories which opened for business on May 1, received $70,749 in the first month in deposits—14.47 per cent. more than was taken in at the initial offices during the first month's operation. There were 2,119 separate deposits, averaging $33.39.

On July 1, it will be possible for depositors to convert their savings accounts into United States bonds bearing 2 1-2 per cent. interest. Many applications for the bonds have been received.

The reports received from the depositors are so encouraging the prediction is made that by July 1st, deposits will have reached $1,000,000.

All the visiting ships reached this port during the course of the day with the exception of the German cruiser VonDer-Tann, which is due tomorrow. PORTUGAL RECOGNIZED.

Action of United States Upon Opening of Constitutent Assembly.

Libson, June 19.—The United States has officially recognized the Republic of Portugal.

This followed the opening of the new Constitutent Assembly this morning at which the President of the chamber read a decree proclaiming the abolition of the monarchy and the banishment from Portugal of the royal family of Braganza, which was unanimously proved. The decree was also read by the President to the great throngs which gathered outside the Assembly building, after which the chamber adjourned.

George L. Lorillard, American, charge d'affaires, in the afternoon waited upon Senor Machado, minister of foreign affairs, and delivered the following note to him.

"Wheeras, The National Constitutent Assembly has this day settled upon and definitely proclaimed the form of government adopted by Portugal, I have the honor, acting according to the instructions received from my government, of hereby informing your excellency that the government of the United States of America has today officially recognized the government of the Portuguese Republic."

The day was observed as a public holiday throughout the whole country. Popular demonstration in honor of the occasion were held everywhere, but no disorders were reported.

ANXIOUS ABOUT MR. DOCKERY.

Friends Fear Brilliant Rockingham Lawyer Will Not Survive Illness.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Rockingham, N. C., June 19.—His many friends throughout the State will learn with pain and regret of the serious illness of Mr. Alfred Settle Dockery, who was stricken down nearly three weeks ago with a severe case of typhoid fever.

All that is within the power of skilled physicians and trained nurses to do for him is being done. His physicians report today that he is holding his own at present and that while he is a desperately sick man, there is yet a chance for his recovery.

His extremely perilous illness together with the very sad and sudden death of Mrs. Susie Everett Smith yesterday, has cast a gloom over the town. Friends inquire anxiously of his condition from hour to hour, hoping for a word of encouragement, trusting that his youth and naturally vigorous constitution and exemplary habits will finally triumph and throw off the deadly toxins. Settle Dockery is the oldest son of Col. H. C. Dockery, editor of the Rockingham Post, and is one of the most brilliant young lawyers in the State.

SALVATION ARMY BOATS.

Plan New Religious Crusade to Co-operate With Local Forces.

New York, June 19.—With the dedication Wednesday of the first of a proposed fleet of yachts the Salvation Army in America will establish a branch which it expects to make coordinate with its land forces for religious work. The yacht is the gift of Bradley Lee Gilbert, the architect, and will start immediately after it is dedicated upon a cruise along the Atlantic coast, touching at many cities and towns to conduct open air services, have meetings and distribute literature. Crew and commander will be Salvationists.

The dedication, it is planned, is to be a gala event. Miss Eva Booth, leader of the Army in the United States, will officiate, escorted by the Salvation Army national staff and every Salvation Army man and woman in reater New York will attend. The national staff band will render a prelude of half an hour's duration and a gathering of well known citizens will participate in the ceremonies.

WICKERSHAM AT YALE.

Scores the Referendum, Initiative and the Recall.

New Haven, Conn., June 19.—Attorney General Wickersham told the graduating class of the Yale law school why he is opposed to the proposed constitution of Arizona and scored the referendum, the initiative and the recall. It was an abuse of language to call such a scheme of government popular, he said:

"It is an attempt," declared the attorney general, "to create a government of all the people, by a majority of the people for a small minority of the people.

"To adopt it would be to substitute it for the institutions which are the growth and the evolution of centuries of American experience, the devices of French revolution and Swiss socialism."

END OF THE LONG DROUGHT.

Houston Section is Favored by Light Rain That Benefits Cotton.

Houston, Texas, June 19.—The long drought in this immediate section was broken by light rains this morning. Advices from several points in the coast region told of good showers during the night and this morning.

Teague reported a two-hour rain in that section last night and Waco a half-inch rain last night. The Waco rain came in time to benefit corn in some bottom land fields.

These rains all appear to have been scattered showers rather than a general precipitation covering a big territory.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Child Killed Near Lumberton by Wilmington Train—A Marriage.

Lumberton, N. C., June 19.—A horrible accident occurred at the National Cotton Mills, two miles west of town, when shortly before 10 o'clock the Wilmington-bound passenger train killed the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brisson. No one saw the accident but the little fellow was found lying near the track a few minutes after the train had passed with one leg broken and the back of his head crushed in. The engineer did not see the boy, on account, it is presumed, of the fact that the weeds are very thick near the track at the point where he evidently attempted to cross. There is said to have been a defect in the boy's hearing and this, together with the noise of the mill only a few feet away, caused him not to hear the approaching train. Coroner Rancke was notified, but after view the remains and learning the circumstances, decided an inquest unnecessary. The child is said to have been on the left side of the track, making it impossible for the engineer to see it.

At 9 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride, Mr. E. A. Burnham, of Bath, and Miss Belle Rozier, of Lumberton, were united in marriage. Rev. E. M. Hoyle, pastor of the Methodist church officiating. The happy couple left on the 9:50 V. & C. S. train for a visit of several days in the Northern cities, after which they will be at home at Bath. The wedding was very qiet, only a few friends being present.

Mrs. James Phillips, accompanied by her two daughters, arrived this morning from Edinburgh, Scotland, to visit her sons, Messrs. J. M. and C. H. Phillips, who reside on the McAllister plantation, four miles south of town. They will remain indefinitely.

This section was visited by refreshin rains which were beginning to be needed——A meeting of the Merchants' Association was held tonight to consider plans for having an appropriate Fourth of July celebration——Miss Leslie Proctor entertained a number of friends this evening in honor of her guest, Miss June Ray Kernodle, of Graham, N. C.——Messrs. Alex. and Hugh McAllister, Sandy McLeod and E. L. Holloway left this morning in Mr. Hugh McAllister's automobile for Hendersonville, which which place they expect to reach tomorrow afternoon. While there Mr. Hugh McAllister, who is cashier of the First National Bank, will attend the sessions of the State Bankers' Association which meets Wednesday.

City Clerk and Treasurer Page is now occupying the room in rear of the Bank of Lumberton, which has been used for some time by the town as a court room. He will be there until his office is completed at foot of Fourth street——Mr. M. Beverly, the agent of the Seaboard, has moved from the dwelling on First street to the one on Tenth street, recently occupied by Mr. J. T. Biggs and family.
